

Our Redwood offerings

Our Redwood selection is expanding with long length live edge, stunning burl cookies, and wonderfully wild bases. Capable of attaining heights of nearly 400 feet, Redwood is the world's tallest tree species. It grows in a limited area on the Pacific coast of the northwestern U.S., where heavy rainfall and cool, damp air creates a unique environment for the species to prosper. These spectacular trees can live up to 2,000 years and have branches up to 5 feet in diameter.

The selected slabs pictured right are some of our longest available at over 20 feet, and have medium to heavy figure throughout. Continue to the next page to see our newly curated Redwood Room, featuring pieces of a breathtaking variety.

The Redwood Room

Rare Tulipwood Boules

This featured genuine rosewood consists of a natural kaleidoscope of color. Streaked with violets, reds, yellows, and pinks, Tulipwood is effortlessly beautiful.

While this species is commonly only found in 4/4 or less, our outstanding selection of Brazilian Tulipwood boules are of greater thickness due to being boules, and the lengths range from three to fourteen feet in length.
