Exploring select tonewoods

We're celebrating the beauty and voice of four extraordinary tonewoods used in fine instruments around the world. From the golden shimmer of Koa to the vibrance of Purpleheart, each species brings its own character to the workbench and to the stage. Classic choices like East Indian Rosewood and Ziricote are revered for their tonal depth and visual drama, making them favorites among luthiers and musicians alike.

Whether you're building a guitar, ukulele, or a one-of-a-kind custom piece, these woods highlight how grain, color, and tone come together to inspire builders and players.

J. Kennedy Guitar Repair is Cincinnati's Fender Gold-Level, Martin, and Taylor-certified home for top-quality repairs and modifications on electric, acoustic, and bass guitars. We're proud to feature instruments built with our lumber by Bridge Builder Guitars, Grog Guitars, and Ironwood Guitars—all built by the staff of J. Kennedy Guitar Repair. These luthiers showcase how the right tonewood becomes a voice, a look, and a legacy.

The glow of Koa

Our inventory: FAS&BTR | 4/4, 5/4, 6/4
Slabs | Ranging 8-13' long

Bold Purpleheart

FAS&BTR | 4/4, 8/4 | Boules | 8/4
Slabs | Ranging 11-22' long

Two tonewoods, two personalities. Whether you're building warm and golden, or bold and brilliant, our Koa and Purpleheart selections deliver beauty and performance. Beloved by luthiers worldwide, Koa delivers both striking visual beauty and a tone that grows sweeter with time. Its shimmering curl and gold-to-reddish hues pair with a tone that starts bright and matures into a warm, balanced richness—perfect for acoustic guitars and ukuleles.

In contrast, with vivid, naturally purple heartwood, Purpleheart makes an unmistakable impression. Its density brings a crisp tone with lively response—ideal for fretboards, necks, and decorative accents that add strength and flair.

Dramatic Ziricote

Cants | FAS&BTR | 4/4, 5/4, 6/4, 7/4,
8/4, 10/4, 12/4 | Boules | 4/4, 8/4

Every cut of Rosewood and Ziricote tells a visual story—from deep, ribboned browns to bold, landscape-like grain. Few tonewoods are as universally recognized as East Indian Rosewood. Prized for its lush overtones, deep bass response, and sparkling trebles, it has been the standard for high-end guitars for decades. Its chocolate-brown hues and straight-to-ribbon figure make it as beautiful as it is musical.

Dramatic dark streaks and swirling figure make Ziricote one of the most visually striking tonewoods available. Its balanced tonal profile of warm lows with articulate highs makes it a favorite for backs, sides, and fingerboards. Each board looks like a natural work of art, adding visual depth to instruments without sacrificing sound.
