

Discovering lesser-known hardwoods

Delve into the unique appearance and performance of Doussie & Cabrueva.

Doussie (Azelia spp.) grows to be a large tree of ~80-120 feet tall with trunk diameters of 3-5 feet—allowing for wide boards when milled into lumber. Its reddish-gold tones and impressive durability have made it a valued hardwood for flooring, furniture, and architectural applications around the world.

- Doussie is very resistant to dents or impacts
- Suitable for high-traffic flooring due to its durability

We offer Doussie 4/4, 8/4, 10/4 FAS&BTR.

- Golden, red browns deepen over time; handsome grain.
- Perfect for long-lasting projects, outstanding durability.
- Janka Hardness: 1810; about 40% harder than Red Oak.
- Common uses include flooring, furniture, and decking.

4/4 Doussie grain

Wide, clean 4/4 Doussie boards

Known for strength and stability, Cabrueva (Myroxylon balsamum) offers a combination of high visual appeal and performance. Its handsome grain can display warm reds, golden browns, and darker purplish red or burgundy. Its excellent wear resistance make this species a standout for furniture, cabinetry, and millwork.

- Mahogany-like* appearance and warmth, with enhanced durability and density
- The tree: Up to 100' tall; 2-3' trunk diameter
- Janka Hardness: 2400

Did You Know?* A common name for Cabrueva is Santos Mahogany. It earned this nickname from its warm color and appearance, but it's actually a different species altogether, and considerably harder than true Mahogany.

We carry Cabrueva 4/4 FAS&BTR and 4/4 & 8/4 boules (boules are sold as complete logs for superior grain and color matching).
